Real-World Experience

From internships to meetings with diplomats to tours of Jerusalem, our social and political sciences programs give you a beyond-the-classroom experience only Hebrew University can offer. Our Rothenberg International School (RIS) combines study across a range of subjects for a comprehensive academic foundation.

• An ideal setting, with Jerusalem and Israel as case studies
• Innovative methods including trips, site visits, and experiential learning
• Expert faculty and partners, including top researchers and organizations

Meet with religious and community leaders, engage with policymakers and diplomats, and complete independent studies, internships, and volunteer placements with respected organizations in Israel. Our recent partners include:

• Truman Institute
• Steven Spielberg Jewish Film Archive
• Hadassah University Hospital
• Jerusalem Center for Public Affairs

Special Opportunities

Studies here did me a great favor, offering me high-quality resources and unique perspectives for my future research, along with language learning, real-life experience, and well-known professors.”

Haotan Wu, M.A. in Islamic and Middle Eastern Studies (2016)

Jerusalem: Your Second Classroom

Cosmopolitan and multicultural, Jerusalem is the perfect place to gain firsthand experience with issues you might only read about elsewhere. You’ll also benefit from our exceptional support services, developed through decades of helping international students thrive in Israel. Our staff of multilingual Israeli students (called madrichim) will live alongside you in on-campus housing and organize social events and trips.

Trips & Site Visits

See theory come to life with extensive field trips and travel throughout Jerusalem and Israel. Examples include:

• UN Headquarters in Jerusalem
• Security fence
• Key monuments and museums
• Walking tours of historic neighborhoods like the Old City
• The Dead Sea
• Cutting-edge water treatment plants

Summer & Short-Term Programs

Gain new insight into issues affecting people around the world in our intensive, short-term programs. Example courses include:

• The Politics of Planning in Multicultural Cities: The Case of Jerusalem
• Narratives and Realities: Inside the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict
• Collective Memory and Cultural Myths in Contemporary Israel

Undergraduate Programs

Choose from a range of courses, internships, and independent studies for a program tailored to your needs. Example courses include:

• Game Theory: Applications in International Relations
• Hostility and Recognition: Social-Psychological Dynamics of Intergroup Conflict
• Israeli Politics

Graduate Programs

Select courses as a visiting researcher or enroll in one of our specialized programs (M.A. or non-degree study abroad):

• Israel Studies, with an emphasis on Israeli Politics, Society, and Media
• Islamic and Middle Eastern Studies

The field trips provided a dynamic way to come to grips with the conflict, as well as a chance to see the many other amazing sights that Israel has to offer.”
