Course Description

Jerusalem is a major center for western religious civilizations, possessing a long and varied history. The course will deal with the city in the various stages of its development: from Biblical times, to the Middle Ages. Subjects to be discussed include the city plan and its physical expansion; its social and cultural dimensions, and Jerusalem as a sacred center. The course will also analyze the relationship between the physical, social, cultural and religious dimensions of the city holy to the three major monotheistic religions. Taking advantage of Jerusalem as an open museum, the course participants will explore its hidden treasures via an extensive series of theoretical classes combined with fascinating field trips throughout the course.

Course Requirements

- Class attendance and participation
 - It is mandatory for all students to attend classes, guest lectures, field trips, etc.
- Failure to attend classes will result in a student being denied the right to partake of the final assignment and receive a final grade in a course.

Students who have a justified reason to miss class (illness, mourning, etc.) must communicate with their instructors and the Department of Summer Courses and Special Programs, and complete the material that they have missed.

Students who have missed class due to illness must obtain a signed and stamped sick note from a treating physician and submit it to the Dept. of Summer Courses and Special Programs immediately following their return to class. Failure to do so will result in an unexcused absence.

The Department reserves the right to refer the issue to an Academic Committee. In some cases, the Academic Committee may decide, in light of the requirements of the course, that it is not possible to make up the missing course work.

- Class participation is an integral part of this course. Workbooks with primary texts will be used, and students are encouraged to prepare them together with a study partner.
- Final Exam

Final Grade Breakdown:

- Attendance and Participation: 30%
- Final Exam: 70%
