Dear HUJI international community,

Please pay attention to the updated Home Front Command safety instructions, regarding gatherings, in the attached document to this email (the information is valid for both Jerusalem & Rehovot campuses) .

Additionally, our offices will be closed from tomorrow (Wednesday) until Sunday (not included). If needed, please contact the emergency contact numbers provided in this message.

Due to a few inquiries and concerns, we like to remind you the regulations in case of emergency and rocket attack:

In the event that you hear a siren, you will need to enter the nearest protected area. Please ensure you know where to find a protected area wherever you are. Once you have entered the protected area, you should remain there for 10 minutes.

Check here for a details list of protected areas on HUJI campuses.

Please check the Home Front Command instructions in case of a rocket attack.

Please check the Home Front Command's guidelines for Emergency Preparedness.

We recommend that you review and familiarize yourself with the Home Front Command app here, so please download the app.

Check the Hebrew University (HUJI) latest emergency update (from February) for more details - <https://overseas.huji.ac.il/updates/>.

We will continue to follow the guidelines published by the Home Front Command in the official distribution channels and would like to encourage you to do the same.

Your safety and security are of the utmost importance.

We advise you to exercise caution as you enjoy your time here and experience HUJI and Israel to its fullest.

You may find more helpful information and a list of our activities in our latest Newsletter.

In case of an emergency, if you feel stressed or confused because of the situation, please get in touch with our 24/7 emergency line – 0548820217
